What to Expect...

We look forward to welcoming you to our first industry gathering in more than 18 months!

Your health and safety are our top priority, and our team is committed to providing details on what you can expect for your visit to Music City, as well as using the latest techniques to create a safe and productive Summer NAMM experience.

Nashville and the state of Tennessee expect minimal health and safety protocols to be in place by July and we are following the guidance of national and local authorities to create a show environment that is as safe and sound as possible.

Read on to find out what health measures we have in place and how you too will play a part to safely connect our communities.

All plans are subject to change, based on the current environment. As such, we will continually update this guidance and communicate show information to you directly on a regular basis.

We will be following regulations and guidance from local health authorities. For the latest updates, learn more here.
Before You Arrive

SELF-HEALTH CHECK
We are asking all attendees to protect our collective community by confirming you are symptom free.

If you feel sick or are exhibiting any of the indicated symptoms, please stay in your hotel or home. Do not attend if you have knowingly been in contact with someone with COVID-19 in the week prior to the show.

Refer to the CDC’s COVID-19 Self-Checker Reference Guide for any questions on symptoms.

PRINT YOUR OWN BADGE
We’ve added more touchless options this year, and your badge is now designed to be printed at home. If you have received your registration invite and successfully completed the process (you’ll know because you will receive an email confirmation), then you will receive your “print-at-home badge” via email prior to the show in July. A badge is required to attend Summer NAMM, so be sure to print at home before arriving at show site.

Learn more here.

MASKING GUIDELINES
As of May 14, all COVID-19 capacity restrictions have been lifted, including updated guidance from the CDC to end the mask mandate. See the latest update from Nashville.

INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL
A negative COVID-19 test is required for entry into the US from all other countries. Please check this link for further details, as government policy can change.

If the country you are traveling from requires a negative COVID-19 test for your return, click here for a list of locations near the MCC in Nashville.

PLAN YOUR TRAVEL
Know your airline and hotel status, along with any health and safety updates they provide. See the resources section of this guide for contact information.

Make restaurant reservations, as they fill up quickly and you don’t want to be left out! Nashville has become a mecca of culinary experiences. Learn more here.

The city of Nashville has created Good to Go, a hospitality safety program to highlight local businesses that are following the health guidelines.

The average daily temperature in Nashville is 90 degrees in July and sometimes it rains, but the AC is pumping in the MCC and hotels, so plan accordingly.

REVIEW IMPORTANT INFORMATION
Continue to reference the Safe and Sound page on our website for the most up to date information.

Please also review NAMM’s Show Info and Policies to ensure you are prepared.

DEEP CLEANING
The Music City Center cleans its facility so well that it is has earned Global Biorisk Advisory Council® (GBAC) STAR™ accreditation.

This means they have passed the most stringent protocols for cleaning, disinfection and infectious disease prevention.

DAILY CLEANING:
Daily disinfecting will take place to sanitize all seating, restrooms, and high touch areas.

Trash will be removed within show areas with greater frequency.

Exhibitors have access to and are encouraged to use enhanced cleaning in their booth areas.

REIMAGINED EXPERIENCE:
The Music City Center will feature wide aisles and expanded exhibit areas.

Hand sanitizer stations will be located throughout the show floor.

Plexi, touchless barriers will be placed at select service counters.

Medical personnel will be on-site to support attendees as needed.

The show will have more space to practice physical distancing while indoors.
