Eastman Guitars and Mandolins is proud to announce the new MDA315 Mandola

Buying your first Mandola just got a whole lot easier

Pomona, CA, January 28, 2018 – Eastman continues to make it possible for students and the curious enthusiast to obtain the more obscure instruments in the mandolin family. The introduction of the MDA315 means that now there is a great sounding mandola with trusted Eastman craftsmanship under $1000. “I work with our end-users and our guitar techs on a daily basis, and when asking about members of the mandolin family, this is an instrument people didn’t know was what they wanted. The MDA315 is for the player that needs a workhorse, the artist looking to add new sounds to their tracks, or the beginner just looking to get started” says Product Manager Dan Skatvold.

MDA315 Features

- Body Top: Solid Spruce
- Back/Sides: Solid Maple
- Body Style: F-Style with F-Holes
- Neck Material: Maple
- Fingerboard: Ebony
- Nut: Bone 1 11/32”
- Scale Length: 16”
- Case: Padded Eastman Gig Bag
- Finish: Classic
- MSRP: $999/ €999.00/GBP 885.00

“Perfect for the novice or the seasoned player, the MDA315 will expand possibilities of any player” says Regional Sales Manager Steve Bernstein. “A mandola isn’t usually the first instrument someone buys, so adding this to a collection is a must.”
